Frederick W. Ford, news editor of the Boston Transcript, with his son George H. Ford, were in town Monday calling on their cousin, W. O. Needham. They are spending a vacation at Long Island in Portland Harbor and he took this opportunity to visit the scenes of his boyhood days spent on the farm of his grandfather and uncle near Noble's Corner. Mr. Ford had not been there for 50 years but he had the place correctly located in his mind. The farm is now owned by Henry White who bought it 24 years ago. It was formerly owned by F. J. Needham, an uncle of Mr. Ford.

The girls in the class of 1890 were recently entertained by Miss Carrie Tucker. The gathering was in honor of Miss Elizabeth O. Lasselle, who will teach this year at New Bedford, Mass., in the primary grades. Miss Lasselle was presented with a gold Eveready pencil and silver bonnet. Charming dishes, finger alleys, cherry ice cream and cake were served. Plans were discussed for the annual reunion which will probably take place after the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McSwiney, who are taking a trip to the Bermudas. They will be here the last of the month. Those present were Mrs. Bessie Hutchins, Mrs. Lilla Locke, Mrs. Grace Cushman, Mrs. Geneva Cook, Miss Elizabeth Lasselle, Mrs. Carrie Jackson and Mrs. Sara Howe.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Buck and Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Buck entertained at a family reunion dinner recently. Dinner being served on the lawn under the trees. In the party were Mr. Foley of West Newton, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Charles McDuffee, Capt. Edwin McDuffee, Albert and Ruth McDuffee of Portland, Helen Coy, Mrs. Washburn, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Buck, Elmer Buck, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Buck, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Buck, Phyllis and baby Edwin Buck. A trip around the lake in the afternoon was one of the enjoyable pleasures of the day.

VOLUME LIII

Twin-Towns Disbanded

A vote of the directors taken after the tournament Saturday was in favor of releasing the players and closing the Association's affairs. Consequently the boys were paid in full and allowed to disband. It is said some plain talk went across before the last rites were performed and the remains interred.

Lack of enthusiasm and patronage is given as the cause of the sudden move. During the past few weeks the salary list has been out of proportion to gate receipts, with a deficit of no small amount in the making. Excellent patronage Saturday filled the coffers and the Association appears solvent. The season was to run until Labor Day, according to the first plans. The public failed to respond at the gate and keep alive the pay roll, considered by many altogether too high as conditions are at present, so the affair was called off.

It is understood Claud Hunt and Billy White will appear with Sherbrooke, Carl Fuller goes to Livermore Falls, Benson will travel for Augusta and Carl Master will be in place with the Texas if he decides to accept. Other players have left town, many not accepting chances because of vacations.

Dover-Foxcroft Editors Visit
We received a pleasant call from L. P. Evans and wife, accompanied by their son, Ora L. Evans and wife, of Dover-Foxcroft last week. They are the editors of the Piscataquis Observer and were making a trip through the mountains of New Hampshire.

Mr. Evans has some relatives in this section whom he was looking up. Among them were the family of the late Capt. J. Waldo Nash of Norway, Mrs. Charles E. Stanley of Fryeburg and others. His branch of the Evans family came from Sweden and the late Dr. E. C. Evans of this town was a cousin.

They were making the journey in a recently purchased Hudson car and stopped at the Beals Tavern. The Democrat office at South Paris was inspected, but Mr. and Mrs. Forbes, whom they wished to see, were away on a vacation.

Board of Trade Excursion

The Norway Board of Trade with a few invited guests will take a trip down the Songo, Tuesday, Sept. 5th if pleasant, if not the first good day that week. They leave Harrison at 7 A. M. returning at 5 o'clock. Picnic dinners will be carried.

Mr. and Mrs. Prince W. Steward are spending their vacation at the DeCoster cottage at Old Orchard.

The class of '08 Norway High School, held its annual reunion Friday evening at the home of Maud Ellen Pike. During the evening refreshments were served and a pleasant evening enjoyed. These present were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Downing of Portsmouth, N. H., Mr. and Mrs. H. Knox Hickson, Mrs. Jennie Mann Kneeland of Somerville, Mass., Miss Maude Mixer, Maude Mann and the hostess. The former officers were re-elected with Mrs. Mann, president, Miss Maude Mixer, secretary and treasurer.

Veranda Club Picnic

The members of the Veranda Club motored to Leavitt's Park, Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 16, for an afternoon outing and a picnic-supper, and also to observe the birthday of one of the members, Miss Clara Jordan, whose birthday fell on that date. At supper time she was presented a birthday cake decorated with fancy frosting and candles, which were lighted. The guest of honor cut the cake and passed it around to the winners, and also to Mr. and Mrs. McCarty, proprietors of Wascoe Cottage. Fishing and a general good time was enjoyed by those present till about 7 o'clock, when all returned home well pleased. It is one of the most delightful places of such an occasion, in easy reach of the village.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Alice Blaquiere, Thursday evening, Aug. 24.

New Cottage Near "The Kingfisher"

Ned Packard is to build for Mr. Terrence a 30x32, 2 story cottage with a garage, next spring and a road will be extended to these camps. The pine trees on each lot will be cut to make room for the cottage.

Mrs. L. M. Ferris of Cambridge, Mass., is spending her vacation with her mother, Mrs. L. M. Goodwin.

Mrs. F. R. McLaughlin of Los Angeles, Cal., visited at W. S. Sloan's, recently, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Brown of Lancaster, Mass., called on relatives and friends here this week.

Accident of Years Ago Comes to Light
While digging in the river for the foundation for the retaining wall next the Clark house, a lower set of false teeth were found, also a pair of spectacles. Geo. Ames took the glasses and Tim Heath the teeth. Further remains have not been discovered.

W. A. Bicknell is authority for the following: "Some years ago Mrs. Jackson Clark (second wife) while picking fruit from a ladder in a tree, the bottom of which was held by her husband, managed to lose her balance and fall into the water and lost both spectacles and a set of teeth. The teeth were recovered but not the glasses."

The spectacles no doubt were Mrs. Clark's as they were found near where the tree stood, but the teeth were found some thirty feet up stream and were of an older make than those probably worn by Mrs. Clark.

Wm. O. Leavitt says it is a fact that Mrs. Clark fell from the tree into the water and was dreadfully worked up for fear it would get into the paper and she would be made fun of by her neighbors.

Mrs. W. A. Price of Waterville has been spending a few days in town.

Serious Error in Norway

Norway Citizens Will Do Well to Profit
by the Following

Many fatal cases of kidney disease have reached an incurable stage because the patient did not understand the symptoms. Even today in Norway there are many residents making the same serious error. They attribute their mysterious aches and pains to overwork, or worry, perhaps, when all the time their chronic pains, backache and bladder irregularities are most probably due to weak and ailing kidneys. If you are ill, if your kidneys are out of order, profit by this Norway resident's experience.

Mrs. Orrill Palmer, lower Main street, says: "Just recently I was suffering from disordered kidneys. My back was painful and it made me restless at night. I was dizzy and everything seemed to turn around in the room. My kidneys didn't act regularly. Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in the family with benefit so I decided to go to Clark's Drug Store and get a supply. After using two boxes I was all right so I gladly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

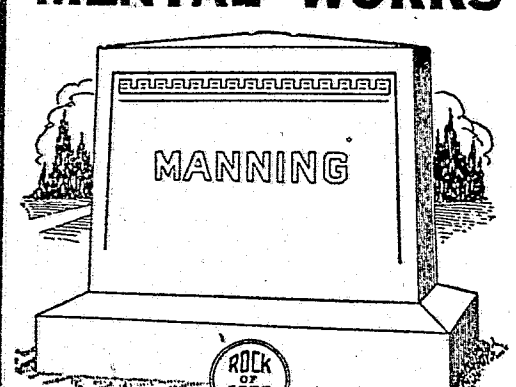

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Palmer had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

WORN OUT AFTER SHE COOKED A MEAL

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—
Read the Result

Cincinnati, Ohio.—"I suffered for a year with nervous troubles and irregularities before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back pained all the time and I was unfit for housework. I was worn out if I cooked a meal and was unable to do my washing. My girl friends and my sister told me if I would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills I would be relieved. After taking the first bottle I felt better, and neglected it awhile, but found I could not do my work until I was stronger. So I took the Vegetable Compound again and now I am the owner of a 13 month old baby. He is fat and healthy and I am sure I could never have carried him if it had not been for your Vegetable Compound. I recommend your medicine to all women although I am young to be advising some one older." Mrs. CHAS. PERKINS, 318 W. Liberty St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains no harmful drugs and can be taken in safety by any woman.

BRYANT'S POND

The Need of Organized Push
Back in 1830 there was a little town on the shore of Lake Michigan where the people, when anything was needed to improve that town or to advance its interests, went after it and pushed and pulled together for it until they got it. There were at that time other towns much larger than Chicago with more wealth and by far greater natural resources and advantages but they were content to let things drift while Chicago had the vision and its citizens worked together to make the dream come true.

Los Angeles is another example of a town that has grown into the greatest city of the West and yet there were other cities in California that seemed to have greater natural advantages. Los Angeles had the vision and its citizens worked together.

Our own little town of Woodstock may not have the possibility of growing into a great city like Chicago or Los Angeles, yet none of us can begin to realize what our town might become could we work together more. Our citizens are as public spirited as can be found anywhere. We already have a splendid school building and many other advantages. No other small town around is doing any more for its boys and girls than Woodstock. Let us do all we can for their welfare and make it possible for a larger proportion to stay in the old home town and work for its advancement.

There is no better spot in the state of Maine or the U. S. A. than our own little town among these beautiful hills and mountains of old Oxford, and our little village beside one of the most beautiful lakes the sun ever shone upon. Its residences are not grand or stately, but they are real homes, neat and attractive and along the highways leading out of our village are well kept farms and farm buildings. Woodstock is a town as free from classes as can be found anywhere. There are none very rich and few very poor and its people make the stranger welcome. Almost everyone likes Bryant Pond and the good old town of Woodstock and our town has friends scattered far and near, but it rests with the people who live here throughout the year what Woodstock shall be. What we need most of all is organized push for the needs of the town. We need a live Chamber of Commerce and Village Improvement Society. If there is need of reorganization, let us get together and work out a plan. If Woodstock is worth living in, it is worth boosting for and while individual boosting is absolutely necessary, united boosting can accomplish much that individuals could never do alone. It is up to us!

Saturday a Great Day
Last Saturday was a great day for Bryant Pond. The Berlin Mills, Brown Co., had their Field Day on M. W. W. grounds. Mr. Wiskit furnished dinners for about 500. Also the West Paris and North Paris Sunday schools had their picnic in the Dearborn grove with a good time, and the American Legion held a fair with midway, a sale of fancy articles, ball games, stunts, and food for sale—a great day for all.

THE ARABIAN NIGHTS
Dreams of the desert and the narrow streets of ancient Cairo where the wide world meets in strange confusion 'mid the city's mart There called together by the feller's art; To hear with eager lungs and surprise The thousand Tales of Wonder and surprise: Tall travelers from the mountains of the Moon, Swart Syrian sheiks from distant Scanderoun, Dark Abyssinians, and the lords Who rule in terror of the Soudan borders; Pale Persians from far Ispahan; Wild servants of some Tartar Khan; Red Sea rovers from Aden's shore And Hindu kinks from Midnapore; Pilgrims and Priests from Cashmere's lovely vales, Or borne from Ceylon's Isle by favoring gales. Out of the East where poor mankind was born To greet the Prophet in the early morn; Listening with widened eyes and open ears To changeless Romance from departed years. Here rise Aladdin's castles on the sand While jewels shower from the Afric's hand And Sinbad voyages over surging seas Through great adventures to luxurious ease. The Genii loosen from his copper flesh Expands his form and essays his task. Shah Zeman greets his princess from her cave Deep in the coral underneath the wave And through the Bagdad streets at midnight hour Wanders the Caliph and the wise Mesour. Of glorious tales, to make a grey old man And leaven dulness with their fancy's flight, Ye come from Nothing and go back again Into the spaces of the Aetherial plane! DON C. SEITZ.

ADVERTISING PAYS
Maine has had proof this year that advertising pays. While other sections of the country are reporting the poorest tourist business for a long time, many of the Maine resorts are having an exceptionally good season and are giving all credit for it to the advertising campaign conducted by the State of Maine Publicity Bureau.

Only a limited number of people are traveling this year, because of unsettled business conditions, lack of employment and other good reasons. As a result the summer business suffered very severely. Maine lost out with the remainder of the resorts, but the State of Maine Publicity Bureau's advertising saved the day and prevented an almost complete collapse by inducing large numbers of tourists who had planned to spend their vacation elsewhere to come to Maine. Without this advertising campaign and the work of the Publicity Bureau, the merchants, farmers, transportation companies and hotels of the state would undoubtedly have had a curtailment in business amounting to many hundreds of thousands of dollars.

THE HUNTING SEASON
During the hunting season there is a demand for places where hunters from the city can be accommodated with room and board. Those located in the hunting regions have a fine opportunity to take a few boarders at this season. The State of Maine Publicity Bureau, Portland, is the place to write to, giving particulars and the number you can accommodate.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas, In the sudden death of Sister Olive Charles we are again reminded of the uncertainty of life and God's power to claim His own, therefore be it

Resolved: That while we as members of Fryeburg Grange No. 297 mourn the loss of our sister, we realize that there are other hearts more and more anxious and we extend to them our deepest sympathy may the Almighty in His goodness sustain them in this dark hour of their tribulation.

Resolved: That this testimonial of respect be recorded on our books, a copy sent to the husband and sons of our departed sister, also a copy forwarded to the Norway Advertiser for publication and that our charter be draped for thirty days.

TAXATION AND HIGH COST OF LIVING

(Communication)

Organized labor prevented the inclusion in the transportation act of 1920 of the clause that would have given the railway labor board the power to enforce its decisions. That board now relies on publicity to secure their acceptance.

Organized labor also won a signal victory in 1914 when it prevented, with the assistance of the agricultural interests, the passage of the Clayton act until some of its most important provisions had been amended so as not to apply to labor unions. Many times since labor leaders have insisted that the Clayton act, as passed, delivered the unions from all manner of hampering restrictions. Labor wants commercial combinations restrained. Labor wants "the money power" curbed. Labor denounces "big business." Yet all the time labor asserts the rights of unionists to combine at any time, to any degree, and for any purpose. All the tyranny that once was charged against the capitalist is now in the hands of the unionist, and more.

The Clayton act provides that injunctions by the federal courts shall not prohibit the quieting of work, refusing to patronize peaceful picketing, nor peaceful persuasion, and that none of these acts shall be considered a "violation of any law of the United States." In essence the Clayton act says that strikes shall not be enjoined. Thus labor feels itself to have been delivered from the limitations to which it was exposed under the Sherman anti-trust act and the decision of the courts in the Danbury Hatters case.

The unions propose to keep the enormous power in their possession without assuming a particle of the responsibility under the law which always should go with the acquisition of power. Congress undertook to curb capital for precisely that reason, because responsibility and power ought to keep step with each other. Has Congress the courage to undertake whatever action may be necessary to prevent the public welfare and the public safety against the selfish exercise of power in the hands of the labor unions? Presumably Congress is soon to be called upon to answer that question. Without question the supreme court is on the watch for any action on the part of the present strikers that looks like a conspiracy. The general doctrine of conspiracy still holds, in spite of the Clayton act. The President intimates his intention of asking Congress to put "teeth" into the law, at least to the extent of making the decisions of the labor board enforceable. A way must be found to protect the nation against the complete disruption of its transportation system.—Boston Herald.

So it seems that Congress by its acts in the past has contributed to the present deplorable condition in the country and in a measure has encouraged strikes, picketing, etc.—at least it has denied the courts the power to stop strikes by injunction and all its kindred evils. All such legislation or lack of legislation must be remedied. Before we vote for members of Congress again, we should know where they stand and what they will do if elected. The vital question records won't count. Pointing to past records of the hour are those that do count. The legislating for special interests must stop. This is above and beyond party. If one will not take hold of this matter, another will. Leaders are needed today. They are in abundance, but they are over the country there is dissatisfaction and unrest. It means something. It means that something must be done to stop strikes, to lower the burden of taxation, to stop the legislating for special interests, and towards bringing back the country to normal conditions. We should not put any more round pegs into square holes. They won't fit the conditions of today. The hurricane is gathering. There isn't a particle of doubt about it. It will be worth seeing when it strikes the recreant politicians.—Comment.

70,000 tons of English and Canadian coal on their way here this week.—News Item.

Good! The more importations the better just now. Down with the high tariffs and high cost of living. Pretty close to free trade for a season till we get free labor, a free shop and equal rights for all.—Comment.

EMPIRE GROVE CAMP MEETING

Last Sunday was the closing day of the camp meeting at Empire Grove. More largely attended throughout than in recent years, and with a program of rare interest to all classes of people, the closing day was a fitting climax to all which had gone before.

In the morning Dr. J. M. Tibbets of the National Reform Association, gave an exceptionally strong address on the "Model Layman," basing his discourse on St. Luke's description of Barnabas, "a good man, full of the Holy Spirit and of faith."

In the afternoon Bishop E. H. Hughes by many considered the foremost pulpit orator of New England, delivered a sermon which few in the great audience will ever forget. With clear and forceful utterance, marked at times by rare wit or pathos and re-enforced by illustrations skillfully drawn from the ideals of friendship and of parental love, the Bishop drove home the truth of the compelling motive in the divine forgiveness which God finds in the very nature of his own heart and mind.

Favored by weather conditions and with hearty cooperation from all the speakers, the entire program was carried out according to the schedule arranged in advance by Rev. D. B. Holt, the district superintendent.

Following the morning worship, Rev. W. J. Layton of Augusta, Me., gave the Bible study hour each day, and proved very happy in his spiritual expositions of the first chapter of the Sermon on the Mount.

The speakers for the church study hour brought fresh messages of great practical value concerning various important features of modern church life and work. The two addresses by Rev. P. S. Ridlon of Monmouth on "Religious Education" and one by Rev. Ralph Love on "Evangelism" merit special mention.

Rev. Lyman Leach, for seven years a missionary at Wuhu, China, made ready to his audiences the character of that country and its people by vivid description and narratives of personal experience. The afternoon sermons were of a high order, especially on Wednesday and Thursday when Bishop John W. Hamilton of Washington and Ed. H. Emery of Waterville were the speakers.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Parlin of Bethel, who recently completed a five year term as missionaries in Fukien Province, China, were present and assisted on the program. Mr. Parlin giving the address of Saturday afternoon and Mrs. Parlin telling in charming fashion of personal impressions of Chinese life and customs at the Sunset Hill meeting of Saturday evening.

The regular evening program presented some interesting phase of church work in homes or foreign fields, illustrated by the stereopticon, and followed by a brief message or service of deep spiritual significance given by Dr. Holt himself. Mrs. Merriam Libby of Lewiston conducted a very enjoyable story telling hour for the children each day.

The new boys' Department opened well under the care of Rev. C. B. Oliver of Bethel, who also had charge of the Young People's Devotional Hour each day.

More than in former years, the recreational side of the meeting received attention. The volley ball court was in constant use. The old-time game of horse shoes was in high favor and many couples were staged before Rev. H. F. Aldrich of West Paris and Elmer Aldrich of Norway finally won the "championship" of the grounds. Each afternoon several automobiles were at the disposal of those who wished to enjoy a half hour in the water at the fine bathing beach in Lower Range Pond, and many took advantage of this opportunity.

The music was in charge of Rev. R. A. Rich of Kent's Hill. Rev. D. B. Holt, who arranged the program, also presided at every session. Rev. I. A. Bean of Lewiston was in charge of the buildings and grounds and like Dr. Holt, worked unceasingly for the success of the meeting.

OXFORD
Mrs. Henry H. Wescott Services were held for Mrs. Mary Farrington, wife of Henry H. Wescott, at the home on Pigeon Hill Sunday afternoon, Rev. D. L. Joslin, pastor of the Methodist church of which she was a member, officiating. Interment in the family lot in the Craigie cemetery. Mrs. Wescott was the eldest of a family of eight children of George and Lydia (Nason) Farrington. She was born in Oxford, 59 years ago. She had been twice married. A daughter by her first marriage had passed away. One daughter by the second marriage, Agnes V. Wescott, lives at home.

For some time Mrs. Wescott had been suffering from heart trouble but about the house and took short walks. Seated at the breakfast table, Friday, she threw up her hands, saying, "Oh!" and immediately passed away. She leaves besides her husband and daughter, three sisters and two brothers, Cora E. Farrington of Augusta, Mrs. Ida D. Hunt of Pigeon Hill, Oxford, Charles W. Farrington of Mechanic Falls, Mrs. Alberta Wood, William W. Farrington, James P. Farrington of Woodstock and Fred M. Farrington of Oxford.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Bradford and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Coy were at the Hebron Sanatorium, Sunday, to visit Mr. Coy's sister, Mary Coy.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Tyner, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Tyner, Louise Shackford, Mrs. Richard Tyner, and the Wynne, Dwinia Tyner and William Hall married to Lake Maranacook, Sunday to visit Clifford Tyner.

Miss Wyman, who formerly taught the Pigeon Hill school, went to Hartland, Me., to attend a three days' institute prior to the opening of the school, Monday, she being one of the teachers.

Mr. and Mrs. Gorge Waitt are entertaining Mr. Waitt's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Abbott of Malden, Mass. Percy Wilson has purchased a farm in western Maine and will move to the White Mountain State, where he is planning to establish a home.

Mrs. Charlotte Hunting and daughter Florence have been guests of Mrs. Edward Coutier of Mechanic Falls. Their sister, Mrs. Luther and daughters of Massachusetts are also guests of the Coutiers.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heslop and Mr. and Mrs. John F. Quinn motored through the White Mountains, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon V. Walker of Portland were at Frank Walker's over the week end.

Eight boy scouts, Hollis Dunn, George Fletcher, Morton Edgerly, Gerald Stiles, Emil Barrett, George Patterson, Sylvester Pratt, William Smith with their scout master, Raymond Buker, arrived home from Locke's Mills camp, Friday afternoon. They liked to South Paris, a distance of 3 miles, where R. J. Stiles met them with his auto. The group made a good showing. Morton Edgerly won first honors in knot tying and George Fletcher captured second honor in the 50 yard swimming contest, while several 3rd places fell to the local boys.

Kamp Bros. resumed operations at their saw mill, this week. They have about half a million feet of lumber to saw out before snowfall.

The boys of Company B, 103rd Regiment of Rumford and the 103rd Regiment were at the Oxford Springs Sanatorium, Sunday, for a dinner service to about 350 people, after which a fine concert was given by the band. A ball game was played and a short drill was given by Company B.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Wood of Boston have been the guests of relatives in town.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Cook returned to Springfield, Mass., Tuesday, after a short vacation with James Cook.

Carroll Curtis, John Robinson and Geo. Jones motored to Bangor Wednesday, where they attended the fair.

Mrs. J. B. Robinson and Mrs. R. J. Stiles returned from New York, Sunday. Albert Wilk has purchased the Louisa Richmond house on King street. William Poole has purchased the Wells house on High street.

The speakers for the church study hour were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Blake the past week.

Benjamin Lapham sprained his ankle Sunday, while getting into his automobile.

PORTER CENTER

Raymond Johnson, who has been visiting his uncle, Charles Philbrook, for the summer, has returned to his home.

Mrs. N. P. Burnell spent the day, Sunday, with Mrs. Will Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Day visited Mrs. Day's parents, Sunday afternoon.

Nat Burnell is spending a few days with his brother, Carl Burnell, of Baldwin.

E. Norton is in very poor health.

Gerald Durgin and Mrs. Libby are working for Arthur Gilman on the road.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Eastman are staying with Mr. Eastman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Libby, for a few days.

A letter of appreciation is seldom put in the waste basket. So you ought to write more of them.

Farm Bureau and Pomona Meeting The Farm Bureau and three Pomona Granges of Oxford County held a joint field meeting at Oxford County fair grounds, Wednesday. Discussions, demonstrations, a picnic dinner and athletic sports were enjoyed by a large crowd. The chief topic was how to get better farm-to-market roads. Herman Mason of Bethel Master of Oxford Pomona Grange, presided.

Lyman H. Nelson of Portland, a member of the Maine highway commission, advocated rural road improvements to bring the farm and market into closer relations. He also advocated the full time highway commission.

Arthur L. Deering, state leader of county agents, gave an interesting outline of what the College of Agriculture extension service has done and is doing in Maine. A. L. T. Cummings, agricultural editor of the college, spoke along lines of community spirit and cooperation. W. J. Thompson, Master of State Grange, traced the 54 years' history of the grange in the United States. Anna O. Barrows of Fryeburg, a specialist in home economics at Columbia University, gave an interesting talk on farm house conveniences.

Anita Nicholson, county home demonstration agent, gave a practical talk on dressmaking. She was assisted by members of the Girls Club at Oxford. They measured, cut, fitted and made up a club uniform in quick time.

Light refreshments were on sale in booths in charge of boys' and girls' clubs of Norway, South Paris and Oxford.

In the exhibition hall, Mrs. Hazel Del Brown of Lunenburg, gave a talk of household decoration and illustrated with her coverings of the durable kind.

Two games of ball were played on the diamond back of the judges' stand, and numerous sports run off, most of the members of the boys' and girls' clubs.

The affair was under the general direction of a joint committee of the four organizations, with County Agent R. E. Lovejoy and Anita Nicholson prominent in every department.

DON SEITZ ON PINCHOT TEXT

In a series of articles of general character in the American Sugar Bulletin of current issues Don C. Seitz, the New York-Norway editor is enforcing the Gifford-Pinchot preaching throughout this country.

There is need of further elucidation of this gospel—the development of the forests and the water-powers. For, as Mr. Seitz says, the "development of national resources" in most cases really means their destruction—as in the case of oil lands, forest lands, mines. But the soil, the fisheries and water-power have the essence of perpetuity. So this former Maine man urges:

"We must, therefore, in all of our calculations for the far future depend upon the development of the rivers, the soil and the sea. In attitude toward the soil, we have regarded it with the utmost concern. The forests form a fair example of our national heedlessness. Here is a perpetual source of wealth shamefully neglected."

"There are estimated to be eighty-two millions of acres of land in the United States fit for nothing but reforestation. No move of any potency is under way to accomplish this. Yet it must come. It could turn the great national blessing if we would be true to the forests of the Amazon for fifty years and let our lands recuperate."

"In the matter of exhausting the coal supply, water-power should be developed for domestic use, also the time will come when dwellers in the North will have to migrate like the birds in winter to escape death from cold."

"We should re-fill our forests, water and fertilize our farms, harness our rivers, out of the fides, cease to tear the hearts of the earth in and to empty the bowels of dividends; have more equality between producer and consumer with minor margins for the in-between-service, which should be truly service and not speculation."

"Then the planet will steady itself and if Utopia does not arise forthwith, Ruin will be centuries remote."

"To suggest remedies is an easy commonplace; to create them a difficult matter; because we deal with the uncertain creature called Man. The competitive principle can be chiefly relied upon to break monopoly and destroy privilege, but evil forces in upsetting the equilibrium in the struggle of life. Where competition fails, co-operation can do much. Combination is not remedy, although the one most often applied. Co-operation means an effort to help each other; combination a scheme to get the best of somebody. Regulation interferes with the competitive principle and is apt to be capitalized into anarchy. The great trust, all desire it, but it should find no public favor."

American politics is the process of de-throning one political boss, and putting another boss in his place.

THE P. N. PRACTICAL FRONT CORSETS

We want you to get more knowledge of this particular one, and we know you will appreciate our recommendation of the popular make. Here are a few lines that will enlighten you about this corset.

Improper adjustment of Corsets has ruined as many figures as poor fitting corsets. The proper adjustment of your Corset is of the utmost importance. Everything from the comfort of your body to the fit of your gown depends on it. The construction of the Lace Front Corset as customarily made is such that it is only with the greatest care that it can be properly put on.

It is impossible to put on a P. N. PRACTICAL FRONT CORSET crookedly. A combination of a centrally located front clasp, with an inner elastic vest, provides an arrangement which moulds the corset to the figure in almost automatic fashion. A few moves of the laces, and the lady is ready and properly corseted.

These features make it possible to put on a P. N. PRACTICAL FRONT CORSET quicker and easier than any other type of corset, either front or back lace. They unlace just as easily.

SAVE LAKE KEZAR

Editor: Fire! Help! Thieves! To the Rescue! Men and women of Maine do you realize that a few business people of the State, who mean well (for their own interests) are going to rob the entire State of one of its gems, one of its financial assets? The Pine Tree State is the Switzerland and the Tyrol of America. Hundreds of thousands of dollars flow into the coffers of Maine on account of her scenery, her scenic lakes and mountain resorts. Already we have robbed our children, and earned the curse of posterity by allowing a vast number of our beautiful lakes in this state to be ruined; turned into dead-tree wastes of hideous ugliness through commercial greed.

And now, have you heard the latest news? A mill concern, it is said, coolly proposes to destroy the beauty of Lake Kezar and stop the flow of summer visitors die by damming the lake. Damming it is the right word. Change one letter and you have the situation described. For if you destroy its esthetic value you might as well write "Ichabod, thy glory has departed" on its forehead.

One of the chief claims of Ex-Presidents Taft and Roosevelt upon the gratitude of America was their long-sighted action in setting aside the great scenic natural playgrounds of the West as permanent public parks. This is what the Empire of Maine should do for her chief asset, her beautiful lakes. It is not as mere fish-preserves, or giant carp-ponds that they are to be regarded. That alone does not draw our thousands of summer visitors. It is their scenic beauty.

"Who gave thee, O beauty, the key to this breast?" sings Emerson. Let the low-born and base-souled scoundrel beauty? It is known to the best of men as a business asset of the highest value.

It has been gradually dawning upon New England and the West that Lake Kezar on the western border of the State of Maine is positively the most beautiful lake east of the Rockies. The cry is going up. The word is being passed around.

There is a rush every season to Kezar. Travelers to Europe and the lakes of Italy, Switzerland, England and come back and rub their eyes on discovering that their Lake Kezar (the old noble "Upper Kezar" as it used to be called) is fully as beautiful and highly endowed as the most famous of those famed lakes. This is not brag, but solid, sober, truth, easily proved by a glance and by facts.

Its happy local distance from the great blue mountain ranges to the west the of the sublime; the beauty of the nearer lofty mountain range on the State border and the charm of the wild wooded hills on the lake's shore; the winding picturesque contour of the lake, so varied in sylvan beauty, and the sunset splendors and pure skies have drawn capital in the last twenty-five years to both shores of this lake, some two or three hundred homes have been built, and the fame of the region is spreading all over the country.

And now come some manufacturers and propose to sacrifice all this to their private interests. But it must not be permitted. The Legislature and the Governor must do their duty to the larger interests of the State and to posterity by vetoing this bold proposed burglary of the treasure chest of the State. It means more than the mere destruction of homes on the lakeside by flogging and submergence of land and the creating of a hideous muddy desolation of dead slimy trees and other vegetation. It means once more a destruction of Maine's national reputation as a scenic resort. Let it not be. As one of our adopted sons O citizens of Maine I beg you to come to the rescue and by mass meetings, letters to legislators and governor, help save this beautiful lake of yours.

WILLIAM SLOANE KENNEDY.

Church Federation Notes
At the service on Sunday morning a short sermon was preached to the children. The Sunday school was in charge of Paul Pearce of New York, who is spending the summer in town. Mme. Marie Sundelius rendered a beautiful solo in her usual charming manner. The Christian Endeavor in the evening was led by Rev. Cassandra Sampson, who is spending the summer with his brother in town.

The program for church week is very interesting and had a good start on Sunday. Monday evening the Father and Son Banquet was held at the Congregational vestry. A large number were present and a delightful evening spent. Supper was served at 6:30 with Mrs. H. R. Denison in charge. Singing was led by Charles Harrison; H. H. Sampson of No. Bridgton acted as toast master.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Burnell of Worcester and friends of Biddeford were guests, Sunday, of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Green.

Gladys Ray, who has been working at F. P. Freeman's, left town, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Flint returned from Old Orchard, Sunday. During their absence Ethelyn and Ruth Flint stayed with Alanson Daves, Mrs. Flint's father.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Pitts and S. C. Pitts motored to Naples, Sunday. Paul Walker, who was operated upon for appendicitis at the C. M. G. Hospital at Lewiston the past week, is making a good recovery.

Arthur Libby of Portland spent the week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Libby, on Elm street.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Edgcomb and Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Spelt returned Wednesday at Buxton where Old Home Day was celebrated. Buxton is Mr. Edgcomb's native town and fifty years ago the same day he spent in that town.

Miss Maude Ellen Pike, teacher of music in Brevard Institute, N. C., is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Pitts on Hillside Avenue.

Miss Bird M. Albee of Springfield, Mass., Miss Christina A. Lunds and Elsie Armstrong all teachers in Springfield, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Flint on High street. Miss Albee was a former teacher in town and has many friends here. She has a beautiful summer home at Higgins Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Pitts entertained the "Ramblers" of Norway at their home, Thursday evening. Supper was served on the lawn to fourteen jolly ramblers. A pleasant evening was enjoyed.

Mrs. Elton Noyes spent several days last week in South Paris.

Elizabeth Pitts of Portland is visiting relatives in town, Harriet Whitney is also a guest here.

The professional man in any town who works the hardest is a professional dead beat.

BRIDGTON FIRE

Fire early Wednesday morning destroyed the grain and flour mill of Hamblen and Ingalls and threatened the depot of the Bridgton and Saco railroad and surrounding buildings. The damage is estimated at $20,000.

A doctor says spinach is rich with iron. Why not use it for a weapon?

POMOLOGICAL MEET

The Maine State Pomological society and their friends met, Tuesday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon E. Whitman at the Elm Shade Fruit Farm at Hebron. The fruitful orchards, in this year when well laden apple orchards in this section are scarce, made this farm a proper place for such a meeting, and as much time as possible from the meeting was spent by the visiting orchardists in looking over the heavily loaded trees.

W. C. Robinson of North Anson is the president and he had a pleasing way of introducing the speakers.

The first speaker in the morning was Prof. George P. Potter of the Durham, N. H. State College. His subject was "Control of Fruit Bud and Formation of the Apple." His was a scientific discussion of the factors that make up successful apple culture, and many got some new ideas on the subject.

A. K. Gardner of Orono was listened to attentively and as usual he had something practical to say. He has been with Oxford county people for so many years that they have learned by experience that it is a good idea to practice what he teaches. His subject was fertilization and cultivation. In these important matters he showed by the work that others have done how to improve the crop in quantity and quality.

An appropriate place was found under the trees in the orchard at noon for the family parties. Those who were not provided with lunches were well cared for at a bountiful dinner in the farm home.

A speaker not on the program was G. R. Cooper of Liverpool, Eng. He is a member of the firm of Harnden and Cooper. One or the other of the partners have been yearly visitors with Maine orchardists, although it has been eight years since Mr. Cooper was here. Maine apples have been handled extensively by these men and Mr. Cooper told how the business was getting along finely when the war came and interfered. Rates of exchange and shortage of shipping room made hard shipping conditions. Last year a large crop in England made a poor market for American fruit. This year there is a short crop there and shipped fruit should have a good market. Mr. Cooper showed how it pays to grow good fruit and grade it well as the Oxford Bears and Indian Head labels are favorites in the English market, because these conditions have been met.

Wilson H. Conant of Buckfield has a way of driving home what he says because he seems to believe just what he is saying. For instance, he said orchardists in this section have got to wake up and fight the gypsy moth. The state has spent $15,000 a year for several years to fight this pest and it has gone beyond state control. It is a farmer problem now. "You have got to spray and fight or get out of the apple business." Up on Greenwood Hill in this town Mr. Conant says he believes the "gyp" has got a good hold. "Go home and look at every one of your trees. You can tell the gypsy by the large egg clusters on the bark or on rocks in the wall and old fence posts. Don't touch 'em now, but mark every nest and next spring go over them with creosote paint and you will kill them."

Again in speaking of another pest, the railroad worm or tripteta, he said: "Make a trap and catch the flies so you can tell when to spray. Knock out both heads of a tight apple barrel. Put several thick pieces of mosquito netting over one end and tie it tightly. Put the barrel open end on the ground, under your Wealdy and sweet apple trees. Put this trap out by June 20 and keep it there until July 10. Watch it every day and when you see small black flies under the cloth, kill 'em and get at the spraying right away. Don't delay a minute. Arsenate lead, 3 lbs. to 100 gals. of water. Do this for three years and you will find your apple tree free from railroad worms."

Mr. Conant advocates dry dusting methods rather than spray. But use what ever method you have. "For the first time this year I have got to spray for the oyster shell scale," said he. "I have fought this pest for ten years and now I believe there is not one in my orchard."

Prof. George A. Yeaton, the dean of the orchard fraternity in this state, was called upon, but he was not to be found. Where was he? Out in the orchard explaining to a few men some reasons for using common wayside wild apple trees to bud and graft for the best apple orchard. He continued where he left off with these men and gave a demonstration of how to graft and bud and also how to root graft. He advocated strongly the

Tournament

The $1,000.00 tournament featuring four heavy teams, staged by the Twin

Towns Athletic Association on the fair grounds Saturday was a banner event.

The affair proved a farewell party to the Twin Towns ball team for the club disbanded late in the afternoon with all salaries paid in full. Augusta won the tournament and big money.

According to the drawings Augusta and Dixfield clashed in the forenoon. This meeting was a regular battle and a tough pole in the opening series with two counts. They held tight until Dixfield opened strong with three runs in the fifth. Augusta tied it in the seventh and landed the single point to win in the eleventh inning. Altogether this struggle was the best show for the day with red hot baseball all along. Score, Augusta

4; Dixfield 3.

Afternoon Games

Lewiston Taxis 6; Twin Towns 1

The Taxis had little trouble working the Twins into a scissors hold in the preliminary contest. Buckland never gave the Twin Towns swatters a chance to make even a good bluff with the stick, and this is a cause for their elimination.

Both outfits felled swiftly and went 50-50 in this department, with the Twins somewhat conspicuous in resitation poises during clinaxes.

A lone tally in the second gave the

Norway-South Paris combination their only medal. Roepel walked, Keville was Life is divided into four periods; Infancy, youth, age of virility, and old age. And sometimes it seems that man has the best sense when he is in infancy.

If you let your friends make a fool of you, don't blame them. The blame properly should be attached to you.

ALLEN—WEST BETHEL

A very severe electrical shower with wind and hail passed over this vicinity Friday evening. It struck in two places but did no great damage.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan P. Dennison of Auburn, Ind., were calling on old neighbors here Saturday. They start back for the West very soon, having been in Maine and Massachusetts some weeks.

Frances Abbott has gone to South Paris for a while to stay and receive treatment for rheumatism.

Harry Billings carried Agnes Millett of Rumford to Rumford Falls, Monday afternoon.

"Booze" makes a slippery way and even chains won't prevent skidding.

Her Opinion Does Not Change

Mrs. John R. Bicknell of No. 10 Grant St., Portland, has used the tonic "L.F." Atwood Medicine for several years, and she still feels that it can hardly be excelled as a household medicine. She has found it invaluable in warding off biliousness and would not be without it.

You are not experimenting when you use "L.F." Atwood's Medicine. It has hosts of friends who are never without a bottle in the house.

WHAT CAUSES GAS

ON THE STOMACH?

It is caused by fermenting, sour waste matter in the intestines. This old, foul matter should be thoroughly cleaned out with simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka. This acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing old accumulated matter you never thought was in your system. Adler-i-ka relieves ANY CASE gas on the stomach. EXCELLENT for sour stomach and chronic constipation. Guards against appendicitis. Frank Kimball, Druggist.

Garments we are proud to show, for they are from the very makers whose styles and designs are always so pleasing to women, who appreciate the fine tailoring and workmanship and the clever modes.

The Special Exhibit of Women's Fur Trimmed Coats
is unquestionably one of the most attractive August Exhibitions this store has had in many years of both cloth and plush fur trimmed garments.

A splendid assortment in every particular, and we feel the prices are lower than will be possible when the season for wearing is fairly open. The fur trimmings are of the wanted and good wearing kinds.

New Fall Dresses for Stout Women
We have just had come in a few new serge and tricotine dresses for fall 1922, in sizes for stout women.

This is the beginning of a specialization by this store of featuring during the entire season THE "BETTER STYLES" IN STOUTS IN WOMEN'S SUITS, COATS AND DRESSES

Clearance Price Continues
on all summer dress Voiles, Tissues, etc., also on all summer coats, suits, shirt waists and dresses, meaning a saving to you on many lines of summer merchandise of 1-3 to 1-2 off their real value, and in some instances a greater reduction is made. Come and see for yourself.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

All stores will close Labor Day, Monday, September 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil J. Gibb, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Cooper, have returned to Westford, Mass., enroute to Gardena (Ky., Cuba, where Mr. Gibb has been in the orange business the past eighteen years. Mr. and Mrs. Cooper accompanied them as far as Haverhill, Mass., by auto.

Mrs. J. M. Hoyt of Acton, Mass., and a daughter of the late John Stirk of Norway, died at her residence Sunday, Aug. 20. She was also a former resident of this town. She leaves four daughters.

Mrs. Agnes Caswell of Acton, Mass., Mrs. George Holland of Berlin, N. H., Vermont, and Mrs. Roy Andrews and Mrs. Clifford White of Detroit, Mich., also one son, Walter Hoyt of Newton Upper Falls, Mass.

L. M. Longley, son Forrest and daughter Catherine, Elmer Noves, Esther Pike and Judge W. F. Jones went to the staff last week on a sightseeing and camping expedition. They were in company with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Knight and friends of Wollaston, Mass. They viewed the scenery from the top of Mt. Bigelow under favorable weather conditions and saw more than 10 different ponds and lakes. Silas B. Longley of Flagstaff, a brother of Leon, accompanied them up the mountain as guide. Mt. Bigelow is 3850 feet above the sea and as it stands out alone, the view is one of the best in the state.

There will be a poultry culling demonstration at the Harry Goodwin Red Feather Farm, Friday, Sept. 8th, at 1:30 p. m. You are invited to attend. This is arranged by Alvin Brown of the Farm Bureau committee. County Agent Lovejoy will be in charge and assisted by an expert.

Maynard W. Allard, son of Walter Allard, at one time a foreman in the B. P. Sumner & Co. factory, has been spending several days with Jesse Allard. He will visit relatives in Conway, N. H., before returning to his home in Cambridge, Mass., for school.

A corner in the American Legion rooms on the left of the entrance has been partitioned off for a reception and reading room. Curtains, pictures, easy chairs and other fixtures will make the room cozy and inviting. Many gifts have been received and articles appropriate for a war "den" are appreciated. Heating the building is causing much discussion among the boys, for coal they have not.

A pipe furnace burning wood has been suggested as the rooms could be arranged in this emergency.

Frank McCarthy, proprietor of Wasco Cottage, locked himself out in the rain early Saturday morning, and only after a very thin night shirt. He reached for the door for the morning paper, which the door slammed and a night lock 4-1-1.

The rest. What a scorp for a "Kekak" Mr. McCarthy, under the dripping eaves and pounding rain, vigorously to awaken his better half for admittance. Friends have requested Mr. McCarthy to work the idea into shape for a minstrel show olio. Of course he should appear in the water logged role gown in the same costume, entitled "Nymph of Lake Pennessence."

Prime Favorite Booked
Everybody who remembers that popular comedian Frank Urban (and it would be difficult to find anyone that doesn't) will be delighted to learn that he is to appear for three nights at the Norway Opera House, commencing next Thursday evening, in a list of comedies and comedies-dramas of Metropolitan calibre, for which he has provided a complete scenic production for every play.

In addition to the plays and players and scenic productions attention is particularly called to the vaudeville between acts, which is said to be changed completely daily, making every entertainment continuous from curtain to curtain and all for the price of admission, which is on a popular scale and easily within the reach of all. Reserved seats now at Stone's Drug Store.

WARRANT FOR STATE ELECTION
STATE OF MAINE

County of Oxford, ss. Town of Norway, Ho To F. W. Sanborn, a citizen of the town of Norway:

You are hereby required in the name of the State of Maine, to notify and warn the inhabitants of the Town of Norway, qualified to vote, to assemble at Norway Hall on the second day of September, the same being the eleventh day of the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, then and there to give their votes for United States Senator, Governor, State Auditor, Representatives and Representatives to the Legislature.

Witness my hand and the seal of the following Referendum Question:

Shall Chapter 213 of the Public Laws of 1921, entitled "An Act to Amend the Maine State Highway Commission, Amending the Twenty-sixth of the Revised Statutes, Relative to the Maine State Highway and also Amending Section Thirty-four of the Revised Statutes, Relative to the Maine State Highway Commission, become a law?"

The polls will be open at nine o'clock in the forenoon and will be closed at five o'clock in the afternoon. The election will be in session at the Selectmen's office on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, September seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth, for the purpose of correcting the list of voters.

And this warrant not to have any force or effect unless given under our hands in the Town of Norway, this 25th day of August, 1922.

Attest: My hand and the seal of the Town of Norway, this 25th day of August, 1922.
